

Description

Use ccTalk™ to communicate with the host controller for your payment products. As an open standard communication protocol, it was designed to provide the transfer of credit and status information for a applications.

This low cost protocol is easy to implement. It allows proactive analysis of peripheral performance, while remote download capability to peripherals.

Benefits

Implement with ease. Low cost and easy to implement

Allows proactive analysis of peripheral performance

Introduces remote download capability to peripherals

Ready for the future. Easily expandable to add new peripherals

Simplicity allows driver programs to be written quickly on any platform