

ALIOTM

A STYLISH CASHLESS
SOLUTION TO KEEP
YOUR CUSTOMERS
AND YOU MOVING

ACCEPT. ENGAGE. LAST.

A SINGLE DEVICE TO DO IT ALL

Your hardware should work for you, not the other way around. That's why we designed the Alio card reader to do more than just accept cashless payment. With a large, engaging screen, and a range of payment options, the Alio reader captivates users and enhances the service experience.

- More than just a card reader, the Alio reader combines multiple technologies with a large screen, PIN on glass capability, and contactless acceptance
- Accept more payment options than ever with swipe, chip, and contactless, plus mobile payment
- Engage users and reduce space by utilizing a flexible user interface on the large, high-resolution touch screen
- Integrate the same standard solution seamlessly across the US and Europe with a streamlined hardware and software design
- With Gorilla Glass and a tough outer casing, the Alio reader is suitable for indoor or outdoor use, and is designed to last against damage, vandalism, and tampering

SMART HARDWARE BACKED BY A COMPLETE PAYMENT SOLUTION

PROCESSING SERVICES

With our years of experience in cashless payment, we know that getting paid is one of your top priorities. To make that even easier, CPI has partnered with reliable, global partners to make sure signing up and getting paid is painless. Plus, with our quick merchant sign-up portal, we eliminate the traditional headaches associated with activating your device.

DEVICE MANAGEMENT

Designed to go beyond just a piece of hardware, Simplifi™ device management services connect your hardware to our cloud-based software for remote monitoring and management. Whether you're checking the health of your terminals, administering updates, or monitoring sales, Simplifi is our promise to you: to make device management simple.

NETWORK SECURITY

At CPI, we know that security is more than just a single touchpoint, and we design all our products to proactively avoid breaches throughout the entire product lifecycle. With a team of security experts working round the clock to protect your products and your data, you can rest assured that your device and your customers' payment data is safe.
